

FINAL WEEK! Enter today to win an 1890 Silver Dollar and a vacation to Great Wolf Lodge!

HISTORY CLUE #14

Twenty years ago, Bartell Drugs celebrated its 100th anniversary by giving a 100-year-old silver dollar away at each of their stores. Many people have been featured on dollar coins in the U.S. For more about historic currency, read page 14 of Bart's Travelogue. If you don't already have a Travelogue, you can find one at the front of your local Bartell Drugs store — or visit historylink.org/bart.

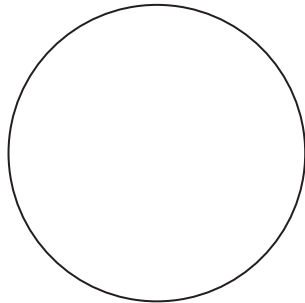

YOUR MISSION: Find enough change to add up to one dollar. Take your change to a bank and ask to exchange it for a dollar coin. What coins did you use to add up to one dollar? What does your dollar coin look like? Complete the following information, then drop your entry in a Bartell Drugs Magical History Tour drop box or mail it to the address below.

Coins used to add up to $1:
 _____ pennies _____ nickels
 _____ dimes _____ quarters
