HISTORY CLUE #12

Bartell Drugs stores have been developing customers' photos for nearly 100 years. And as far back as 1920, customers were able to get their photos back in just five hours, thanks to a motorcycle courier! For more about early photography, read page 12 of Bart's Travelogue. If you don't already have a Travelogue, you can find one at the front of your local Bartell Drug store — or visit historylink.org/bart.

YOUR MISSION: Visit your neighborhood Bartell Drugs store and go to the photo department. You'll find two banners featuring photographs from Bartell Drugs history. By looking at these photos, you can see some examples of how life has changed since the pictures were taken. Choose a picture and complete the following information, then drop your entry in a Bartell Drugs Magical History Tour drop box or mail it to the address below.
