George Bartell Sr. and Bart were both born in the nation's Heartland. George grew up on a farm in Kansas and Bart was created in Detroit, Michigan. Farms in the Midwest were very important because they supplied most of the grain and vegetables for the United States. You can read along with Bart by picking up a copy of the Magical History Tour at your local Bartell Drugs store.

Northwest Harvest helps people who do not have enough to eat. If you are interested in donating to this cause, bring one (or more) cans of food to your neighborhood Bartell Drugs store and drop them into the boxes marked "Stock the Pantry" when you drop off your contest entry.

YOUR MISSION: Visit a farm or community garden near you to see how crops are grown and tended. To find ideas for where to go, visit HistoryLink.org/Bart. How do you think the crops here compare to those grown in the Midwest? How have farming methods changed over the past 120 years? Complete the information on the bottom of this clue then drop it in the Bartell Drugs drop box or mail it to the address listed below.
