City Affairs:
City decides it can't block rodeo
By DOUGLAS WILLIS
Sitting on a controversial issue in the Central Memorial Rodeo, City Council members held their first public hearing on allowing rodeos in Seattle. The vote was 6-1 in favor of the proposal, with one council member abstaining.

LUMBER PLANT BURNS: In Everett last night—Funeral was held for Earl H. Poirot, owner of the Everett Lumber Co. Mill, who died the day before. Poirot was a prominent business leader and was known for his philanthropic work.

Fairy Tale Setting Has 7 Fair Maidsen
By DONALD DUNCAN
The setting is out of a fairy tale. A little silver button, sewed into the coat, was just found by two children who were playing in the woods. The button was given to a fairy godmother who turned it into a beautiful gown for the princess. She was then taken to the Royal Ball, where she met her prince charming.

The house has windows in the form of flowers, a garden path, and a fountain. The walls are covered with tapestries of gold and silver. The furniture is made of precious metals and jewels.

Besides the sound of music, there was a soft murmur of voices and laughter. The room was filled with beautiful flowers and fragrant perfumes. There was a grand piano in one corner and a harp in another.

About 7,100,000 board feet of lumber were reported lost-A. P. Wadsworth.

Furniture, produced by a skilled craftsman, was in demand. Several pieces of furniture were sold at the Royal Ball, where the princess danced with her prince.

The roof was made of glass and held flowers and plants. The windows were decorated with painted designs.
